ABSTRACT

The positive, negative and educational significance of money in children's lives. Rules for the correct use of money.

Keywords : money, discount, cap, source of problems, trend, attachment, family contract.

Money problems for us ,, is the' source". This can also be seen in the attitude towards money in a single family. At this point, let's put the attitude of adults, while focusing on the attitude of children to money who have not yet fully understood the difficulties of life.

Money does not leave anyone, naturally, children. Despite how different it is to earn money and spend it, the problems that are born on money in families are very similar to each other. The reason is, ham-Ma's life is related to money in such a way that the problems that arise as a result affect the general problems of social life, such as health, interactions, child and parent relationships. So money is a constant companion problem to us. But as a problem, its solution will definitely be found. It all depends on how you approach it.

Covers of money' the text also alludes to adults along with children from negative consequences such as not being tied to money, wasting by inappropriate use is a sin, money must be used correctly, falling into different bags and not being deceived by different people. The fact that a person who is ready to buy at any price , due to the attractiveness of products in supermarkets, has been deceived more than necessary in a certain period of time, or if not, a discount', ,, like' Super action", words that a person within the quotation likes fondly will also help to instantly get into the cap. In order not to be fooled by such things, entering both supermarkets and any market stalls with a list of things to be taken is proof that only those on the list should be taken, which does not lead to any negative consequences. Warren Buffett,, argued that if the market closes for 10 years, buy only what you like'[1].In any case, the fact that a person does not buy anything more than his own needs, it is definitely a mistake for him to buy what is right for the next day without knowing whether he needs it or not.

Excessive obsession with money causes any Inon to become easily friends with qualities such as lazy, lazy, lazy that sink into the swamp of shame the tendency to bet on sports games among young people has become more and more popular lately . This is also caused by a strong desire to earn easy money , not putting effort into labor in some people. As a result, the money, energy and time that needs to be spent on acquiring a profession , knowledge, is being spent on an unnecessary and harmful gambling game.

Too many people spend the money they earn to buy things they don't want, to impress people they don't like,'[2] says Will Rogers. Today, the work of human beings, whether or not, uses money to unwillingly buy anything in the latest fashion, which has become' fashionable, among young people, to master its competitor. "When everyone saves money, he must realize, understand that it is necessary to make an economy, not to be tied to money, not to measure everything with money.

In conclusion, I will say that teaching the child's mind the correct use of money from a young age, every parent must know that the child should not be taught for money. We hear about different contracts in everyday life. But in a family that has emerged in recent times, the contracts' have a different meaning. This is a paid contract between the parent and the child. The simplest view of this is that every grade received at school or if not, the parent motivates his child with money to do household chores. In fact, the monetary incentive measure is used in many cases by parents who have not been able to force their child to fulfill their task in other ways, but at worst, they don't even think about the negative consequences. The teachers' warning of their parents in this matter goes to useless. Unfortunately, the fact that parents pay their son or daughter for the good grades they get at school, as an incentive for doing household chores, is somehow becoming a fashion. In this way, in many cases, the monetary incentive that parents give out thoughtlessly can lead to negative consequences.

In fact, money cannot be said to have a completely negative or positive effect on the child. But it is unlikely that the wrong approach to it will lead to many unpleasant situations.
