INTRODUCTION

In the history of mankind, the upbringing of children has always been considered important. After all, the upbringing, knowledge and enlightenment of the younger generation determine the fate of society. Therefore, for the future of the society, it is important that the children of every nation growing up today have a mature upbringing and high education. Education is a factor that determines a person's spiritual image, as well as his whole destiny. The question of education and upbringing has been described by the elders of every age. The great thinker Abdullah Avloni wrote "Turkish Gulistanor morality" in the book "Allah created human beings in the original nature to be talented and capable, to distinguish between good and evil, benefit and harm, white and black. But the development of this ability in a person is through education." Belinsky said that "education is a great thing; it can decide a person's destiny." "Education is for us a matter of life or death, salvation or destruction, happiness or disaster," he said.

Therefore, the future of society is not burdened It is permissible to bring up the next generation with a mature upbringing and high knowledge. Proper parenting begins with the family. The family is a "spiritual fortress that ensures the continuity of generations", a small part of society, and the child brought up in each family, of course, goes to school, receives education. Although the upbringing of the younger generation is the duty of the representatives of society, but along with every parent, educators, educators and coaches have a great responsibility. The truth is every parent also faces some challenges in providing adequate education to their children due to family concerns.

That is why today the upbringing of children is given priority at the level of state policy, and the elimination of some problematic situations in families by professionals and, of course, to ensure the perfect upbringing of children is becoming a priority. Development of decisions for each stage of education and flour we can recognize the reforms being carried out in order to ensure their implementation as proof of our opinion. Today, the second stage of education is full coverage of children from all families in secondary schools, but preschool education, which is an important part of the system of continuing education, is not covered at the level of secondary schools. To bring the quality of education to a higher level, families and educators work together at all levels of education should This requires a high level of educational work in the activities of preschool organizations, in line with modern requirements.

Now parents prepare the child's documents, taking full responsibility as soon as their children reach school age, and try to create all the conditions for their education. The fact is that in this case, the parents act voluntarily without the demands of anyone, the child. They make all the training tools for i. This is a good thing, but sadly, if a boy who was dusting the streets last night is brought to school without any preparation, how will he behave, how will he be able to sit in class, how will he react to the teacher? Not thought! Imagine for a second you were transposed into the karmic driven world of Earl. Not difficult. As parents reach school age, some are in a hurry to give up school age. Surprisingly, no attempt is made to address the problems that their children are clearly facing in their education. On the contrary, seeing that a child is lagging behind in education, they are not able to provide sufficient support even because they are not experts, and as a result, the culprit is the teacher, the educator! Our children's school education at what are the factors that prevent parents from dealing with them in difficult situations? It is true that most of our parents place similar responsibilities on the teacher during the period of their child's primary education, as well as lead a child who has not mastered preschool education to the threshold of school, which causes similar problems. Such problems are in families who send their children to the first grade in all schools of the republic observed.

So how can this problem are solved? The answer is very simple. Just as the concept of parents taking their child to school when they reach school age is fully formed today, it is necessary to fully cover every child in the family in preschool institutions so that the child can master the lessons in school without difficulty and teachers do not negatively affect the quality of lessons. Why do some parents send their child to school when he reaches the age of preschool education, he refuses to study at a pre-school educational institution? In order to ensure the effectiveness of education in schools, it is advisable to consistently introduce pre-school education, which is the first stage of education. Imagine that a teacher is ready to teach a lesson to children admitted to the first grade, the classroom is at the level of demand, students are fully equipped with teaching aids, unfortunately, some in the classroom children were brought up in a pre-school educational institution, some were brought up in a family, in the honor of our elders.

Even a skilled teacher cannot ensure that the lessons in this class are 100% on demand. This is due to the fact that children from different families have just entered the classroom and are looking at school supplies, and there are a number of problems among their peers, such as inability to behave freely, frustration without wanting to be separated from their mother.

When parents send their child to school, showmen he encounters problems like this, he realizes that he is trying to explain his situation in a simple way, as if to justify himself, by telling his child "not to go to kindergarten". At this point, they should be able to tell the truth that "I did not go to kindergarten, not when I did not go." A child with preschool education can easily say goodbye to his parents, knows how to behave in class, can easily communicate with peers, and most importantly does not cause problematic situations for the teacher. The first of education a child who is not educated at the stage of education not only tortures the teacher and his parents, but also prevents his peers from receiving quality lessons.

“Scientific observations and research have shown that 70% of all information a person receives throughout his life is actively received by the age of 5, and the child's consciousness is formed mainly at the age of 5-7 years. This shows that the spiritual world, worldview, knowledge and potential of a person entering the society are inextricably linked with the education he received in the pre-school years. It can be said that the first educational idea of every child is not only in the family, but also in preschool education institutions. Therefore, today the resolution of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated December 29, 2016 "On measures to further improve the system of preschool education in 2017-2021" is a program in this regard. In order to ensure the high level of implementation of these measures, of course, it is necessary that parents, along with representatives of the industry, take a serious approach. Each child parallels preschool education along with family upbringing, the effectiveness of the quality of education in the primary grades of secondary schools is achieved. It is considered normal for parents to consciously lead their children voluntarily when they reach school age. When today our parents take their children to secondary schools as they provide them with 100% coverage even when they reach preschool age, we will be able to achieve our goal without any difficulties. The great enlightener A. Avloni: We should not delay the initial education of our children, as they say, "Education through lessons ... both of them know each other." It is important to pay attention to the proximity and convenience of MTTs to residential areas so that our children in families are fully covered by preschool education. After all, in addition to parents sending their children to the MTT, which is close to their place of residence, what kind of work the institution organizes, how do they receive training also pay special attention to their departure? That is why it is important for educators of MTTs to organize classes using new innovative technologies, to be able to make a good impression on students and their parents. In MTTs, where the quality of education is high, they take their children to the same institution, even if it is far from their parents' place of residence. Many parents want their children to get a good education tries to create every opportunity for. But if we look at the other side of the issue, some parents do not send their children to preschool, even though the MTT is close to the place of residence, the reason is simple.

Whether the whole family has adult supervision or whether they are in a permanent home. Although our parents are constantly in front of their children, they are concerned about the family and do not pay enough attention to their education, which is a problem for the child at this time need to understand that it is not temporary, but rather serves as a ground for creating new and bigger problems. We need to make our parents fully understand that giving their children to MTTs as soon as their children reach preschool age is important for the future of their child and family.
