ABSTRACT

This article describes in detail the human dignity - the main goal of the "Development Strategy", the promotion of human dignity, the development strategy, the gradual transition to a social model of disability.

Keywords: human dignity, "Development Strategy", social guarantees, word culture, social model.

INTRODUCTION

Respect for human dignity, full protection of the rights and freedoms of all, and the legitimate interests of all have become a priority of the work being done in our country.

There are also many ways to ensure the rule of law, address the causes and problems of the population, prevent torture, ensure full openness and transparency, and strengthen freedom of expression through the introduction of new mechanisms for dealing with complaints and appeals. significant results were achieved in the complaints.

MAIN PART

One of the main goals of the draft development strategy is to transform the activities of public administration on the principle of "citizen-oriented". At the same time, special attention is paid to directing all activities of ministries and departments to the service of the citizen on the principle of "public servant"[7]. Life itself clearly shows that this problem is extremely important. This can be seen in the analysis of appeals to the Ombudsman. We see that some of the problems raised by the population in the appeals are the result of irresponsibility and negligence of the lower executive bodies[5].

The draft Development Strategy envisages increasing the level of provision of the population with modern prosthetic and orthopedic products and rehabilitation aids to 60% in order to provide the necessary social guarantees for the population and further strengthen the social protection of the needy[2].

In-depth analysis of complex global processes and the results of our country's development in recent years on the basis of the principle "For the dignity of man" to further improve the welfare of our people, transform the economy and accelerate the development of entrepreneurship, unconditional protection of human rights and interests[11]. In order to determine the priorities of reforms aimed at building an active civil society:

The New Uzbekistan Development Strategy for 2022-2026 (hereinafter referred to as the Development Strategy), consisting of the following seven priorities, developed on the basis of the principle "From the Action Strategy to the Development Strategy" as a result of a wide public discussion, and its implementation To approve the state program on implementation of the "Year of honoring and active mahalla" (further - the State program) according to appendices 1 and 2:

- Building a people's state by enhancing human dignity and further development of a free civil society;
- To make the principles of justice and the rule of law the most basic and necessary condition for development in our country;
- Accelerated development of the national economy and high growth rates;
- pursuing a fair social policy, development of human capital;
- Ensuring spiritual development and bringing the industry to a new level;
- Approach to global problems based on national interests;
- Strengthening the security and defense potential of our country, pursuing an open, pragmatic and active foreign policy[1].

The head of our state said, "Human dignity is not an abstract, lofty concept for us. When we say human dignity, we mean, first of all, the peaceful and safe life of every citizen, ensuring his fundamental rights and freedoms[9]. By human dignity, we mean the creation of decent living conditions and modern infrastructure for every citizen, the creation of qualified medical services, quality education, social protection, a healthy ecological environment," he said[13].

In the new era of our development, a practical expression of attention to human dignity is being formed in the minds of our people, especially our youth, and these qualities are becoming more and more firmly entrenched in the way of life of our people[10].

There is a gradual transition to a social model of disability. In order to create new jobs and increase the income of the population, the work to triple the employment of people with disabilities has not gone unnoticed[6].

From the point of view that the protection of human rights is an ongoing process, we can conclude that in the Development Strategy of New Uzbekistan, our country has set key tasks and objectives for the next five years to enhance human dignity[12]. And each of us has a responsibility to make them happen. Because it is our unity and solidarity for the future and development of our country[3].

Over the past five years, the institution of the Oliy Majlis Representative on Human Rights has undergone radical changes. In addition, the legal framework for the Ombudsman's activities has been strengthened, his rights and powers have been increased, and a national preventive mechanism for the prevention of torture has been introduced. Naturally, due to these measures, the position of the Ombudsman in the international arena has also been consolidated[8].

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, it is in the interest of all our people that the process of large-scale reforms continue and be productive. We fully hope that the representatives of all state and public organizations, civil society institutions, non-governmental non-profit organizations will be involved in the implementation of the new Development Strategy of Uzbekistan[4].

We are confident that the new development strategy of Uzbekistan will usher in a new stage of national formation, as well as become a unified spiritual basis and law that will unite our people in the pursuit of common goals. Goals and objectives In our country, the full implementation of the priority principle "For the dignity of man" is a key criterion in the noble endeavors of the leader of our country.
